ALTHOUGH the use of the lash has been practically abandoned in Hongkong it is still employed in the Straits Settlements. The Penang Times records a case in which one LIM As JEE with four aliases and five previous convictions was sentenced by the Su- | Gazette:preme Court to twelve months' rigorous imprisonment and twenty strokes of the rattan. The man pleaded guilty to the charge, but made an earnest appeal to the Judge as soon as he heard his sentence to be let off the corporal punishment part of it and receive in lieu a further term of imprisonment. The Judge, in reply, called the attention of the prisoner to the fact that, as imprisonment on eight different occasions did not have the stop to his depredations on the public. Sin.—I took a drive along the Bowkewan-road this evening and was susprised to see that the filled with boats, the occupants of which will no doubt, with the persistence of their class, do their best to make it a permanent residence. If this is not firmly stopped we shall by and bye have the bay filling up as far out as the break-water. Had proper measures been taken in most years to keep the bay inside of the old : seway clear apparently far from being orushed by the recent | there would have been at the pre .t day quite severe defeat inflicted upon them by Commandant | as large a harbour of refuge as is likely to be required for a long time. But as we know what has occurred in the past it behoves the authorities to prevent its being continued and greatly extended. I also found that the foreshore from the end of the conseway all the way to the Whitfeild station is covered with hundreds of boats, of the filthlest description, with pigs; child ren and other abominations in endless variety. This is the only road we have out of town But what, in my opinion, is much worse is that the quatters' huts on shore, close to the road are still rapidly accumulating. There is now quite a village where a few years ago there was nothing but a couple of hawkers' stalls. This, my experience of Chinese convinces me, is far the greater evil, and is one that should be cured by their total removal without a day's delay. The first thing I heard when I got back to town was that there had been another case of cholers in that direction and that Whitfeild ed families, is probably what the director of the station had been cut off from connection with Government bank in Vladivostock, Mr. Bit. the Central. At first they amused themselves by throwing the beast dried fish, bits of wood, meat, and other uxuries of the season; but as his attentions became more marked the hunters had to take to their guns, with the effect only of making him use his tail in a way that filled the boat half full water. The situation got critical, the boat half full of water, the shark more and more unruly; they were far from land-what was to be done? This conundrum our hunters had nearly given up, and in impotent fury the captain threw a sheet of paper at the fish's head. One sidelong glance—and, horrorstruck, the finny one plunged headlong in to the briny deep! gentle waves softy unfolded the printed sheet, and brought to the eyes of the astonished saved ones the title-page of a copy of the Visdivostock newspaper. The cause perhaps may be sought in the fact that in the view of most people the beer is considerably easier to digest and not quite so thin as his paper: but as a case like the above has come to public knowledge, what a future for the sale of the Vladivestock! RUSSIA AND CHINA

The Nord, whose relations with the Cabine of St. Petersburg are well known, contains a letter from the Russian capital, which seems destined to out short the discussion concerning. the mediation of Russia between France and China. According to this letter, apart from the reasons connected with the internal condition of the country, which impose on Russia the greatest circumspection, it is clearly her interest to remain a simple spectator of a complication which, whatever its result may be must turn to her advantage. "without coating her either a single man or a single rouble." The correspondent of the Nord rejects the hypothesis of a war. The Chinese themselves cannot be so blind as not to foresee the inevitable issue of hostilities, and will not China will therefore make concessions, the moral
